VETERANS EXITING HOMELESSNESS: MOVE-IN ESSENTIALS DRIVE

When a veteran leaves a shelter or transitional housing and moves to a permanent residence they often do not have the basic items needed to set up their new home. Aside from a need for bedding and furniture they need the basic items we often take for granted. This collection drive will serve to assist veterans that are moving into a new home. All of these items will be delivered to a VA facility to be distributed to a veteran in need.

OLW STUDENTS PRESENT "FIDDLER ON THE ROOF"

More than 40 of Our Lady of the Wayside students performed in the school's annual musical performance last week.

"Fiddler on the Roof," the popular musical based on the book by Joseph Stein, was presented on Friday and Saturday evenings May 11 and 12, in the Father Mackin Center.

The leading roles of Tevye and Tzeitel were played by Billy Doyle and Moira Newell.

A re-creation of a Broadway (or off-Broadway) presentation has been an annual OLW School event, providing students with an opportunity to display "non-classroom" talents and skills.

OLW'S TWO NEW DEACONS ORDAINED BY CARDINAL CUPICH

Two well-known and active Our Lady of the Wayside parishioners were ordained as Deacons of the Roman Catholic Church by Cardinal Blase Cupich at Holy Name Cathedral on Saturday, May 12.

OLW Pastor Father Ed Fialkowski and Associate Pastor Father Louis Golamari joined family and friends of Pete LeTourneau and Paul Onischuk at the solemn and happy ceremony.

Deacons LeTourneau and Onischuk were among 19 new Deacons ordained by the Cardinal.

Deacon Paul Onischuk

Paul Onischuk is a life-long Chicago-area resident, one of eight children born to Daniel and Gloria Onischuk.

Paul was born in Park Ridge and was raised in the near-West side at Our Lady of the Angels Church. After moving to Oak Park as a youth, Paul graduated from St. Edmund School and Oak Park & River Forest High School.

He earned his bachelor's degree in Economics and Business Administration at Elmhurst College and settled in Arlington Heights with his wife Lisa (DiCroce) in 2001. He is the proud father of Matthew (14) and Noelle (12).

Professionally, Paul will celebrate his 25-year anniversary with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in June, where he leads a team of information security professionals in directing regulatory examinations of complex financial institutions and technology service providers.

Deacon Paul looks to apply his Certificate in Diaconal Studies from the University of St. Mary of the Lake in service to Our Lady of the Wayside through youth formation, in addition to assisting with liturgical events and sacramental celebrations.

Deacon Paul consecrated himself to our Blessed Mother Mary in 2012 and wishes to bring the faithful to Jesus through Mary's loving embrace, as well as through the lessons and lives of the Saints and our own, personal guardian angel.

Deacon Peter LeTourneau

Like his colleague, Deacon Paul, Pete LeTourneau is a Chicago-area native. He was born on the South Side of the city, in Little Flower Parish, and later at St. Linus in Oak Lawn.

He graduated from Marist High School and Loyola University. Pete and Jan were married at St. Mary's in Des Plaines in 1984.

The LeTourneaus have two children Emily (26) who lives in Columbus, Ohio, and Andrew (24), who lives in Chicago.

Pete and Jan have lived in Arlington Heights for 24 years.

SOLEMNITY OF PENTECOST

Do something useful

Be honest: Do you think prayer is useful? While we might describe the act of praying positively, we may not be convinced it actually “works”—at least not as we intend. Here’s the shocker: Many theologians agree it’s a trap to consider prayer in terms of utility. Prayer is not an effective activity; that is, it’s not a penny in, gumball out procedure. Prayer’s not an activity at all. Rather it’s a form of relationship, an unveiling of the self before the God of love. Loving relationships, however, are very effective. Just ask the Pentecost gang what love can do.

TODAY’S READINGS: Day: Acts 2:1-11; 1 Corinthians 12:3b-7, 12-13 or Galatians 5:16-25; John 20:19-23 or 15:26-27; 16:12-15 (63). “And [they] began to speak in different tongues, as the Spirit enabled them to proclaim.”

MEMORIAL OF MARY, MOTHER OF THE CHURCH

Thank you, Mother

Pope Francis recently added a memorial to celebrate the Blessed Virgin Mary in her role as “Mother of the Church” every year on the Monday after Pentecost as a way to foster Marian piety and the “maternal sense of the church.” The Marian title of “Mother of the Church,” was given to the Blessed Mother by Blessed Pope Paul VI at the Second Vatican Council. With its addition to the General Roman Calendar, it will now be celebrated by the whole Roman Catholic Church. Ponder how your own faith has been nurtured within the church community, and take a moment to thank Mary for serving as mother of us all.

TODAY’S READINGS: Gen. 3:9-15, 20 or Acts 1:12-14; John 19:25-34 (572A). “Standing by the cross of Jesus were his mother and his mother’s sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary of Magdala.”

MEMORIAL OF RITA OF CASCIA, RELIGIOUS

Support gentle, loving relationships

If you knew you would be canonized a saint and could choose your patronage now, for what cause would you cheerfully accept intercessions? Be careful in your selection: Saints become the patrons of causes they know all too well. Rita of Cascia is the patron saint of bad marriages, victims of spousal abuse, and loneliness, among other conditions she endured personally. There are still many who seek her help today. Support local programs that assist families in trouble.

TODAY’S READINGS: James 4:1-10; Mark 9:30-37 (342). “If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all.”

The Lord loves those who love wisdom

At times biblical poetry sets theological distinctions aside. In some places in Hebrew scripture, for example, divine wisdom is feminine and spoken of in a way almost indistinguishable from God. While the church often uses the masculine term “Father” for God, that is not to say God is male but that God acts toward us as a loving father does. Scripture and tradition have other names for God as well. Of course the Supreme Being is ultimately beyond gender—and all description really—but human beings need human terms to express their experience of God, including that of “wise woman.”

TODAY’S READINGS: James 4:13-17; Mark 9:38-40 (343). “For whoever is not against us is for us.”

Pass the salt, please

What might humble table salt have to teach us about God? Surprisingly, a lot! The Catholic Encyclopedia has an entire entry devoted to salt, noting that historically it almost always has had a sacred and religious character. As a seasoning, salt gives a kick of flavor and taste to what might otherwise be a bland meal. It’s also a preservative to keep food from going bad. The gospels use the symbol of salt to refer to Christ’s new life within us, an ingredient that indeed transforms our whole lives. How can you add some more seasoning to God’s activity in your life?

TODAY’S READINGS: James 5:1-6; Mark 9:41-50 (344). “Keep salt in yourselves and you will have peace with one another.”

FEAST OF MARY MAGDALENE DE’ PAZZI, VIRGIN

Suffering can be service

Jacqueline de Decker had gone to India to serve the poor and wanted to join Mother Teresa’s newly founded Missionaries of Charity, but a spinal injury ended her dream. Or so she thought. In 1952 Mother Teresa sent Decker a letter with a proposal: “I need souls like yours to pray and suffer for the work” who could “do much more while on your bed of pain than I running on my feet.” Decker’s vocation sounds a lot like that of the 16th-century Carmelite sister Saint Mary Magdalene de’ Pazzi, who withstood years of physical and spiritual suffering yet had a mystical prayer life and later even rose from her “bed of pain” to become a wisdom-figure in her community. Jesus calls us all to serve. Consider your strengths not your weaknesses when answering that call.

TODAY’S READINGS: James 5:9-12; Mark 10:1-12 (345). “Do not complain, brothers and sisters, about one another, that you may not be judged.”

MEMORIAL OF PHILIP NERI, PRIEST

Stepping out for Jesus

Saint Philip Neri (1515-95) must have had a good cobbler, because he sure put a lot of miles on his shoes. He sauntered through Rome, striking up conversations with whomever he met, beggars or bankers, warming hearts as he talked about God. Often, he’d bid them walk and talk with him en route to a church or hospital. Later, after becoming a priest, he organized pilgrimages to churches in the city, inviting people to walk and pray together. As the one who brought the Forty Hours Devotion to Rome, Philip would like today’s practice of walking in procession as a prelude to adoring the Blessed Sacrament. Sometimes we need to wear out our soles to touch the souls of others.

TODAY’S READINGS: James 5:13-20; Mark 10:13-16 (346). “Let the children come to me; do not prevent them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these.”

Fitness has a positive impact on children's learning.

A new study has found that children who were the most physically fit scored significantly higher than the less fit group in memory exercises.

“One of the biggest reasons children have difficulty learning is due to a lack of concentration in the classroom,” says Dr. Joshua Alpert, Orthopedic Surgeon on the Medical Staff at Advocate Sherman Hospital in Elgin. “Physical activity helps them to release some of that built-up energy and reduces the monotony of sitting in class so they can more easily concentrate.”

How can you include time for exercise and physical activity in all of your programs for children? How can you celebrate their bodies and help them learn that moving their bodies is an important part of their spiritual lives?

A critical part of helping kids be active is doing the activity alongside them. So as adults, we are not off the hook! Keeping our kids healthy can help us, too!

Prayer: We are grateful, God, for the miracle of our bodies. We can move, we can stretch, we can flex! May we pass on this joy in our bodies to our children so that they may be healthy, happy and whole. Amen.

Take Steps to Improve Memory

Exercise is key to mental health for older adults who are striving to remain independent and active. Older adults who walk or jog perform better on memory tasks than those who are more sedentary, according to researchers from Boston University.

The results showed that older adults who took more steps per day had better memory performance, including long-term memory.

The Boston University research showed that physical fitness benefits cognitive health or mental capabilities used to think, talk, learn, read and recall things from memory.

To maintain and improve brain health in older adults, Sue Durkin, geriatric advanced practice nurse at Advocate Good Samaritan Hospital in Downers Grove, says, “Our bodies were made to move. Many of these basic approaches to maintaining health and function can help sustain a satisfying quality of life.”

During the Children's Liturgy of the Word
9:30 a.m. Mass in Rectory Meeting Room

CYCLES OF FAITH
Pentecost Sunday

Today we celebrate the "birthday of the Church!" Pentecost is described in the first reading from the Acts of the Apostles. But before the great driving wind and tongues of fire empowering the Disciples, the Holy Spirit had already arrived. The Gospel for today's Mass during the day is from John 20. Jesus appears to the fearful disciples after his resurrection. He first speaks a message of calm. "Peace be with you." The apostles "rejoiced when they saw the Lord." When the enthusiastic response settles down, Jesus "breathed on them and said to them 'Receive the Holy Spirit.'"

In the pairing of these two readings--the Pentecost experience in Acts and the breath of Jesus in John's Gospel --we see that the coming of the Holy Spirit is not only an empowering, it is an indwelling. We have each received the breath of grace in our baptism. It is confirmed, strengthened, and deepened in each reception of the sacraments. If we persevere in virtue, the Spirit of God is alive in us, inspiring our actions of love. This Pentecost Sunday, how is the breath of God alive in you?
