Third Sunday of Lent

Lenten Reflection

Third Sunday of Lent

The last two weeks we explored God's Covenant and his promise to us of undying eternal love. The covenants God gives us is gradually revealed and fulfilled in Christ.

Deacon Jerry Brennan

I will cheat a bit, kind of like reading the end of a book to get to the punchline that we see in its fullness in the Triduum at the end of the month. The reason for me skipping ahead is that this weekend we are hosting a Eucharistic Miracle Exhibit in the Mackin Center from Saturday evening, March 2, through Tuesday, March 5th, at 5:30. The complete hours are listed elsewhere in the bulletin.

The Exhibit is remarkable for two reasons: (1) who created the Exhibit and (2) what constitutes a Eucharistic miracle.

The Exhibit was created by Carlo Acutis a young Italian web designer who died 18 years ago at the age of 15. Carlo came from a wealthy secular family that was not particularly religious, yet Carlo was devoted to spreading the word about Eucharistic miracles and approved Marian apparitions. He was beatified by Pope Francis three and a half years ago.

What is a Eucharistic miracle? You could say that every Mass is a Eucharistic miracle, and you would be right! Jesus Christ coming down and being fully present and converting these common elements of bread and wine into the substance of his body and blood is truly miraculous. But that is not what the common term Eucharist miracle refers to.

You could say the dedication of Carlo Acutis, Li (a young Chinese martyr in the late 1940s who Archbishop Sheen preached about), or Tarcisius (a young Roman martyr), or all those who faithfully institute or receive the Eucharist are Eucharistic miracles, and you would be right!. But again, that is not what the term refers to.

Lanciano, the site of an 8th century Eucharistic miracle, is typical. The priest who was saying Mass doubted as he was consecrating the Eucharist. The corpus of the consecrated host turned into human heart tissue and the wine into blood. Carlo documents 32 such approved miracles in the Exhibit. Come and see and receive a deeper understanding of the Eucharist and a deeper faith.

Blessings,

Deacon Jerry

THE POWER OF PRAYER

According to the Thomas More Society, Illinois will more than double its annual abortion rate from its current average of 40,000 abortions to about 100,000 abortions. This is due to Illinois' loose restrictions on abortion, the repeal of parental notification, and that Illinois does not impose barriers such as mandated counseling, waiting periods or short gestational limits on those who travel here from other states.

So what can we do? One way to stop the amount of abortions performed is to pray with others outside your local abortion clinic. We hear it so often - the power of prayer is amazing. And, it is what we can do in the midst of being powerless and helpless in a culture that seems so very lost.

Prayer works, and statistics support this. Former Planned Parenthood workers, including Abby Johnson, say that the no show rate for an abortion appointment can be as high as 75% when people are outside praying. 40 Days for Life has had similar experiences. Shawn Carney says they have had over 400 moms choose life in one of the 40 Days Campaigns that come together to pray outside a clinic.

Abby Johnson continues, "You see, when you come to pray, you are saving lives even if you don't know it. Women see you and instead of pulling into the parking lot, they drive right by. When you are on the sidewalk, women see you as an outward sign of their inward conscience," she said. "Your presence shows them that the decision they are making is morally objectionable. Doesn't it feel good to know that you CAN save a baby from abortion? You just have to show up. You have to be present."

Praying outside an abortion clinic is not easy. Aside from legal concerns, these are places of sorrow and despair, but as always, we can trust in Christ and our Lady when praying.

And if you cannot pray while physically there, you can still pray for the mothers troubled over their unplanned pregnancies, the workers who feel they are performing a just service, and for the innocent human lives not knowing what their mom is about to do. Keep praying. It might seem as if our prayers are not answered: abortion rates are increasing; pregnancy centers are under attack; and many Catholics advocate abortion.

We'd love for you to join our ministry! Email RespectLife@olwparish.org today. So how can we pray? With great humility, faith, confidence and persistence. In the words of St. Jane de Chantal: Let us tie ourselves down to prayer and never quit it, for in this game (so to say) he is the loser who gives up his prayer. If it seems to you that you are not heard, cry out the louder; if you be driven out by one door, come in by another; if you hear the words said to the Canaanite woman--that you do not deserve the graces for which you ask--humbly reply that, like her, you do not aspire to unusual favors, but only to eat the crumbs that fall from the divine table.

The heroes in this story are me and you: Moms, husbands, aunts, neighbors, and friends who support life and talk about its importance with others. Who are willing to gather together early in the morning with their rosaries outside a clinic or in a dining room chair in their home asking for our Lady's intercession. Those who consider the task set before us as Christians: That we were made to know God, to love Him, and to serve Him in this world, and to be happy with Him for ever in the next.

TOO MUCH?

THE CAMINO

May I Help to Lighten Your Load?

Deacon Paul's Religious Pilgrimage

This Easter Season, I will undertake The Portuguese Way of The Camino, a 160+ mile path to Santiago, Spain that is intimately connected to the life and ministry of St. James.

Along this pilgrimage, I hope to carry your prayer intentions, offer them up along the route, and place them at the feet of St. James in his resting place.

If I may do so for you and yours, kindly complete and cut-out the prayer intention template to the right and deliver it to our Parish Office. To ensure my receipt and carrying of your intentions, the deadline for submitting such is Easter Sunday, March 31st.

Wishing you and yours God' peace, blessings, grace, and mercy. —Deacon Paul

Prayer Intention:

! !Name (optional):

Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest.
Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart; and you will find rest for yourselves. For my yoke is easy, and my burden light (Mt 11:28-30)

HOLUM BLOOD DRIVE MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER!

Thank you to everyone who came out to Emily's "Sweet Sixteen" Blood Drive this Sunday. It amazes us that for sixteen years, your love, generosity and support have been unwavering. You never disappoint.

This year was the best one yet. We managed to collect 156 units of blood which will go to help approximately 468 lives!!

It's a day of hugs, smiles and catching up.

Thank you for allowing us to be able to honor Emmy in such a beautiful way. Emmy was such a loving, giving and courageous little girl who would be tickled pink to know that so many people continue to help save lives in her name. You are making a difference in so many lives, especially ours.

Thank you so very much.

Love.

RCIA candidate Jacob Schutta's participated in the Call to Continuing Conversion at Holy Name Cathedral with Bishop Bartosic on Sunday, February 25th.

Seeking full initiation to Catholic Church, Jacob personally greeted Bishop Bartosic and took his place with numerous catechumens and candidates throughout the Archdiocese of Chicago. Bishop Bartosic provided a special blessing to guide and protect our catechumens and candidates as they progress toward receiving their sacraments at the Easter Vigil.

Please keep Jacob—and all catechumens and candidates—in your prayers. May they continue to be touched by the Holy Spirit and proceed with faith and zeal to God's love and the grace of the sacraments.

Four Signs That It's a Scam

1. Scammers PRETEND to be from an organization you know.

Scammers often pretend to be contacting you on behalf of the government. They might use a real name, like the FTC, Social Security Administration, IRS, or Medicare, or make up a name that sounds official. Some pretend to be from a business you know, like a utility company, a tech company, or even a charity asking for donations. They use technology to change the phone number that appears on your caller ID. So the name and number you see might not be real.

2. Scammers say there's a PROBLEM or a PRIZE.

They might say you're in trouble with the government. Or you owe money. Or someone in your family had an emergency. Or that there's a virus on your computer. Some scammers say there's a problem with one of your accounts and that you need to verify some information. Others will lie and say you won money in a lottery or sweepstakes but have to pay a fee to get it.

3. Scammers PRESSURE you to act immediately.

Scammers want you to act before you have time to think. If you're on the phone, they might tell you not to hang up so you can't check out their story. They might threaten to arrest you, sue you, take away your driver's or business license, or deport you. They might say your computer is about to be corrupted.

4. Scammers tell you to PAY in a specific way.

They often insist that you can only pay by using cryptocurrency, wiring money through a company like Money-Gram or Western Union, using a payment app, or putting money on a gift card and then giving them the numbers on the back of the card. Some will send you a check (that will later turn out to be fake), then tell you to deposit it and send them money.

HOW TO AVOID A SCAM

Block unwanted calls and text messages. Take steps to block unwanted calls and to filter unwanted text messages.

Don't give your personal or financial information in response to a request that you didn't expect. Honest organizations won't call, email, or text to ask for your personal information, like your Social Security, bank account, or credit card numbers. If you get an email or text message from a company you do business with and you think it's real, it's still best not to click on any links. Instead, contact them using a website you know is trustworthy. Or look up their phone number. Don't call the number they gave you or the number of your caller ID.

Resist the pressure to act immediately. Honest businesses will give you time to decide. Anyone who pressures you to pay or give them your personal information is a scammer.

Know how scammers tell you to pay. Never pay someone who insists that you can only pay with cryptocurrency, a wire transfer service like Western Union or MoneyGram, a payment app, or a gift card. And never deposit a check and send money back to someone.

Stop and talk to someone you trust. Before you do anything else, tell someone — a friend, a family member, a neighbor — what happened. Talking about it could help you realize it's a scam.

Report Scams to the FTC: If you were scammed or think you saw a scam, tell the FTC at ReportFraud.ftc.gov. https://consumer.ftc.gov/articles/how-avoid-scam

GOSPEL MEDITATION:

March 3, 2024 3rd Sunday of Lent

I am the Lord your God... You shall not have other gods beside me. —Ex 20:2-3

One of the greatest golfers of all time — if not the greatest — was Jack Nicklaus. Which is why it is baffling that at the beginning of each season he would return to his childhood coach and re-learn how to grip the golf club. It's like Shakespeare re-learning the alphabet and grammar. Why would he do that? Because Jack knew that the fundamentals are always relevant. Perfecting and obsessing over his grip allowed him to do everything else in the game well. In sports and life, the best ones love the basics.

Similarly, as we begin Lent, we re-learn the spiritual basics in the Ten Commandments. Consider the first, to "have no other gods besides me." This is our "grip." Is our connection to God one of absolute fidelity and exclusive worship? Am I willing to let go of my precious idols, the things I cling to instead of God? Once we say "yes" to this fundamental question of our spiritual "grip," then we are ready to properly engage with everything else in life. Watch how beautifully the game of life unfolds in the next nine commandments (numbered in parentheses): how we speak to God and others (2 and 8), how we organize our week (3), how we relate to our family (4) and the wider community (5 and 7), how we live our sexuality (6), and how we order all the other desires of the human heart (9 and 10). But don't rush to these later Commandments too soon! Everything in life is built on the first Commandment. The more we focus on worshiping God alone, the better we navigate the complexity of life with panache, effectiveness, and love.

Lenten challenge: This week, identify what you can do to better worship God alone. If you're not sure, scan the last nine commandments to identify what you are most likely to worship instead of God. Power, pleasure, control of your time, possessions, family, health, reputation, money? Commit to concrete action to help you let go of this "idol" to better hold on to God alone in faithful worship. Remember: the best love the basics. — Father John Muir ©LPi
